Can we look into what Republic is doing and how they do it?

Hi there, Gentlemen.

I wanted to thank you for your time today. Please see the attached link to the facility that mirrors what we're seeking to have in Houston. I recall hearing that Houston area waste facility providers were adamant that it couldn't be done here, yet it exists in another area and is being promoted and heralded. I believe that one of our vendors, Republic Waste, is also the same company that's doing it in Anaheim. If we're seeing viable solutions elsewhere, what can Houstonians do to continue to support such progressive measures here?

Please see the video below:

"Difficulty is the excuse that history never accepts." Thanks again for your time.

Honored to serve.

Maya.
